A FEW NOTES ABOUT THE CONCERT

6:30pm Concert—Lift Ev'ry Voice and Sing

Often referred to as "The Black National Anthem," Lift Every Voice and Sing was a hymn written as a poem by NAACP leader James Weldon Johnson in 1900. His brother, John Rosamond Johnson (1873-1954), composed the music for the lyrics. A choir of 500 schoolchildren at the segregated Stanton School, where James Weldon Johnson was principal, first performed the song in public in Jacksonville, Florida to celebrate President Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

At the turn of the 20th century, Johnson's lyrics eloquently captured the solemn yet hopeful appeal for the liberty of Black Americans. Set against the religious invocation of God and the promise of freedom, the song was later adopted by NAACP and prominently used as a rallying cry during the Civil Rights Movement of the 1950s and 1960s.

7:30pm Concert—Shooting Star

This piece is an original, a premiere! Composer Lauren Culver, who is here tonight, is a local violinist, composer and arranger. A family friend of Ms. Silberman's, Lauren is the daughter of a retired middle school director, Tom Culver—Tom came years ago to WV to visit the orchestra program, bringing his electric cello. Lauren is a senior college violin performance and music education major at the Chicago Conservatory of Performing Arts (CCPA) at Roosevelt University in downtown Chicago. Lauren wrote this piece this past summer, and it is the first of a multi-movement piece—we are the first orchestra to play it! Lauren came and visited us in September to play a different piece with us and she shared this new material—we loved it and decided to play it on this concert. Inspired by composer Jesse Montgomery's Starburst (a piece that Chamber Strings will play in March at the Wentz Hall Capstone concert!) Shooting Star was conceived first as the melody line that you hear throughout the movement. Lauren shared with Chamber Strings her writing and arranging process—very organic... she hears something or thinks of something and enters it into her digital music program, Sibelius.
