WELCOME!

The Waubonsie Valley music staff and students are very excited to welcome you to our nineteenth annual Meet the Artist concert! Meet the Artist has evolved into an incredible experience for musicians and audiences alike.

The Meet the Artist concert features our freshmen performers and a guest artist who may be a conductor, performer, composer, or any combination of the three. This year we are happy to welcome not one, but three guest artists: Melanie Clevert Sarapa, Rachel Trumbore, and Lucas Wood. Our students have had a wonderful time learning and growing from their energy and musical gifts.

Thank you for being here to share this new adventure with us. Now sit back, leave your cares behind, and...

Let the music take you!

We offer our heartfelt gratitude to the INDIAN PRAIRIE EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION for sponsoring tonight's performance and for their faithful support of the Fine Arts throughout District 204.

Melanie Clevert Sarapa

Melanie "Adia" Clevert Sarapa is a neo-soul rock violinist, singer-songwriter and teacher from Chicago whose groundbreaking live improvisational skills put her in a category of her own in the growing DJ violin genre.

Beginning her training at three and a half years old, Adia's classical studies culminated with a Master of Music in performance from DePaul University's School of Music. Late in her studies Adia embarked on a journey far removed from her classical roots when she began studying her new found passion – blues and rock guitar legends such as B.B. King, Eric Clapton, Slash and Jimi Hendrix to name a few. Adia went beyond absorbing their tricks and techniques, ultimately connecting with the visceral power behind their music.

It is precisely this innovative, guitar-sounding energy from her electric fiddle that makes Adia a truly unique violinist in the world, winning the 2014 Judges' Selection for the Experience Hendrix Tour and the 2013 Steve Vai Best in Shred competition. Adia's DJ violin sets combine dance and lounge DJ music with her electrifying classical, soulful and jazzy riffs. The result is a virtuosic performance that is both highly entertaining and connects with the audience on a deep emotional level. adiadjviolin.com

As a teacher over the past 20 years, Ms. Melanie, as she is affectionately known by her students, has taught violin, viola, music theory, and group classes. Adia's pupils have become successful musicians in their own right.

As a freelancer, Adia has performed with numerous orchestras across the country including Chicago Sinfonietta, Broadway in Chicago, and as concertmaster at the Paramount Theater's production of Jesus Christ Superstar. She is the founder and front woman of classical crossover group Electric 5, as well as the indie rock band Adia & The 7 Eyes. She has appeared on shows such as The Big Leap and Empire along with the feature film Magic Coloring World. Adia has performed with numerous top artists such as The Who, Patti LaBelle, Jennifer Hudson, Chance the Rapper, Shirley Caesar, Jennifer Holiday, Dionne Warwick, Ledisi and Yolanda Adams among others.

Rachel Trumbore

Trombonist Rachel Trumbore is the Professor of Brass at Aurora University based in Chicagoland. Rachel has performed with the San Diego Symphony, Chicago Symphony, The Who, Weird Al Yankovic, and under the baton of Charles Dutoit, Edo de Waart, and Rafael Payare. Rachel completed her master's at California State University Long Beach with Kyle Covington. Rachel is also a Northwestern University alumnus, where she studied with Michael Mulcahy, Tim Higgins, Doug Wright, and Randy Hawes. Aside from music, Rachel finds joy in hiking, growing food, and raising alpacas with her wife Sarah.

Lucas Wood

Lucas is a Galesburg, IL native and graduate of The Chicago College of Performing Arts at Roosevelt University, where he was a student of Richard Stillwell. In his seventh year as executive director of the Knox-Galesburg Symphony, Lucas balances arts administration and performance by maintaining a voice studio as an adjunct instructor and lecturer at Knox College, where he has taught since 2013.

Lucas has performed title roles in Handel's Giulio Cesare and Mozart's Don Giovanni as well as many oratorio performances, most recently as baritone soloist in Faure's Requiem and tenor soloist in Handel's Messiah. He has also appeared in Donizetti's Don Pasquale, Mozart's La Nozze di Figaro, and Ward's The Crucible. During his tenure with the Chicago Symphony Chorus, he performed with many acclaimed conductors, including Riccardo Muti, Bernard Haitink, Michael Tilson Thomas, and Charles Dutoit. Also during that time, the 2010 Chicago Symphony Orchestra recording of Verdi's Messa da Requiem was awarded two Grammys: Best Classical Album and Best Choral Performance. In 2014, he made his solo debut on the Orchestra Hall stage in Chicago singing Mountain Top by Jacob TV.
